

Martynas Pilgis

Business Development Officer, Axiology

Martynas Pilgis is Business Development Officer at Axiology, a capital markets infrastructure provider developing a DLT-based trading and settlement system to improve access to the EU fixed-income market. His focus lies in client development and commercialization of tokenised market infrastructure initiatives under the EU DLT Pilot Regime.

Alongside his role at Axiology, Martynas is a Non-Executive Management Board Member at Phoenix Payments, a licensed European e-money institution. Previously, he held senior roles at the Bank of Lithuania and the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), contributing to global stablecoin policy, tokenisation and the implementation of the Markets in Crypto-Assets Regulation (MiCA).

Martynas has advised central banks, ministries, and international standard-setters on innovation and regulation in payments and capital markets. He holds a Master's in Public Policy Analysis from Vilnius University and has studied at Boston University, the University of Copenhagen, and the Joint Vienna Institute.
